Madam, Sir,

I am a private inventor and I filed an application for a patent. I am trying to check the status of my application with the Electronic Business Center and I get a message that the application number is invalid.

After talking to someone from your office, I was told that my customer number is not associated with the application. I was advised to resubmit an application for a PKI number. I had received a PKI number which is no longer valid.

Could you associate my customer number with the application and re-validate or re-issue an authorization code so that I can check the status of my application over the Internet?

Thanks in advance,

Francois Rodrigue
